To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Lynn Morgan, my age is seventy-seven, and I have been a United States citizen all my life. I have a part-time job at Yakima Valley Community College as an aide in the Adult Basic Education department.

I met Zahid, the only name I know to call him, when he came to our home about five years ago with other friends for our Friday Investment Club dinner. At one point the group watched the stock market, but by the time I joined it, we were investing in each other. He and his wife, Ann, not only joined our group, but added humor, compassion, interesting conversation, and the fascination of another culture.

Zahid and his wife, Ann, seem to be very happy together. He is thoughtful and shows her consideration, although sometimes he prefers to do the talking. They are comfortable to be around.

When my son needed some help with a collection agency, Zahid met with him and gave him the understanding he needed to present his case. My son has a problem understanding things when presented orally. Zahid took the time to make sure he understood and would be able to stand up for himself against an unfair practice. As a mother, I appreciated this kindness on Zahid's part.

I believe that when you serve in the US Army you certainly deserve to be a citizen of the country you are serving.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
